

Industrial hygiene and disinfection services

EFI Global, a Sedgwick company, is actively aiding our clients by providing certified industrial hygienists and experts to help with your planning efforts as you prepare to reopen. The team can perform coronavirus-related site testing, develop business-specific cleaning and disinfection protocols, provide disinfection contractor oversight and assist with business preparedness. As an industry leader in industrial hygiene consulting, EFI Global has combined our decades of collective experience and the most up-to-date CDC cleaning and disinfection protocols to support our clients' developing needs during this challenging time.

Comprehensive solutions

- Surface sampling for the coronavirus (COVID-19) in buildings; this is most applicable prior to reopening buildings that have been accessible to essential employees and after disinfection services have been completed
- Preparation of business-specific cleaning and disinfection protocols for implementation by restoration/disinfection contractors
- Cleaning and disinfection oversight, project management and documentation that cleaning activities were performed according to the Centers for Disease Control and Prevention (CDC) best practices
- Back to business preparedness plans to assist our clients with reopening properties, and completing disinfection and enhanced cleaning efforts
- Safety and awareness training for staff covering the proper use of new personal protective equipment in the workplace and how to reduce the spread of the virus

Service expertise

EFI has extensive experience providing environmental health and safety consulting services in sensitive facilities such as hospitals, nursing homes, government buildings and public and private schools throughout the country. We understand the risks and challenges posed by COVID-19. Our team is well-qualified to provide field sampling of high-touch and impacted building surfaces, and develop protocols for cleaning and securing workplaces. Our industrial hygienists and network of contractors are already assisting clients and providing services to help them respond to this crisis, all in accordance with CDC and World Health Organization guidance.
