

Appraisal and umpiring services

The inability to arrive at an agreement in the claims process is a common occurrence. Many claims sit unresolved and become stagnant because of a dispute on value. Be strategic and proactive. Take advantage of the appraisal clause in your policy when applicable. The longer a claim sits unresolved, the greater the likelihood for a negative outcome.

The team of highly qualified adjusters serving in Sedgwick's appraisal and umpiring division has extensive experience in this arena. With a resume of over 4,500 cases appraised and over 500 disputes umpired, these professionals have the specific skills necessary to be an essential piece in the appraisal and resolution process.

Expertise and support

The depth of the resources at our team's disposal is unparalleled. From our contents solutions and managed repair network to our forensic accounting services, we have the expertise needed to help the appraiser establish a fair and proper value for any type of loss. We can also coordinate forensic engineering services with the experts at EFI Global, a Sedgwick company.

Reaching a resolution

From the initial Declaration of Appraisal to the final award, we have a clear and consistent approach to managing the appraisal process. Our knowledgeable adjusters are impartial and thorough. With our wealth of information and expertise, our ability to negotiate effectively and drive positive outcomes for claim resolution is greatly increased.
