Time and material billing software

Creating bills for complex restoration projects can involve gathering multiple pricing details and ensuring everything matches the original estimate – taking valuable time away from managing projects. Sedgwick's T&M Pro software helps contractors complete the billing process with ease. This user-friendly application ensures accurate, consistent billing that is 100% transparent.

Project billing simplified

The billing options in T&M Pro include time and material, rate and material, cost plus, or a combination of the three. With T&M Pro, contractors are able to:

- Print field sheets that are fully aligned with the price list; field staff just need to fill in quantities

- Merge bill files with multiple losses together to create one bill file for the complete project

- Compare estimates to actual totals for each billable category and see continuous updates as more project data is added

- Enter equipment, labor and costs into the project cost manager and see cost totals, gross profit and margin percentages

- Automatically create reports that show the daily burn rate with a breakdown of what was spent in each category each day

- Audit and validate all billable items and values in seconds using the project auditor

There are also some key features in T&M Pro that provide benefits for contractors including:

- The ability to add unlimited price lists and tailor the price data file based on the client or project

- Multiple premium time (overtime) functions and rules

- The ability to merge multiple files without duplication

- Options to export the full bill or individual reports to Excel

- Built-in safeguards with pop ups and highlighted warnings

Additional options

- T&M Pro Admin – This offers password protection that preventsunauthorized changes to the price data file

- T&M Pro for consultants/adjusters – This includes tools to clerk time and material projects, and review and audit time and material bills with the project auditor

- Prevailing Wage – This module ensures the correct prevailing wage benefits are billed; an Admin version with password protection is also available
