

Case management

Certain medical conditions and claim characteristics can increase medical costs if not addressed early. Engaging our nurse case managers helps control costs and ensures injured employees receive the care they need.

Coordinating care

Our nurse case managers are highly skilled in monitoring and consulting to guide occupational injury care. Our team identifies comorbidities and coordinates with claims examiners to deploy specific strategies to mitigate costs and promote safe, appropriate care and activity for each injured employee based on their situation. Whether it's a single task assignment, full field case management on a complex case, or anything in between, our case managers partner with clients to provide the most appropriate level of support.

Telephonic case management

Our telephonic case managers work closely with the injured employee, treating physician, employer and examiner to ensure the best medical options are utilized. This is the most cost-effective means of assuring proper medical care and coordination.

Task assignment

When a targeted, limited face-to-face intervention is needed with the injured employee or the provider, our experienced case managers offer the necessary support to keep claims on track.

Field case management

Our field case managers assist with cases that are more complex and require direct contact with the employee, medical providers and employer. Our experienced team ensures each case receives the right medical management and that all parties involved have a full understanding of the employee's progress.
