

Agriculture claims solutions

Agriculture is a diverse industry with unique and complex risks. Our agriculture claims experts understand the challenges farmers and ranchers face, as well as the insurance policies and coverage issues specific to this industry. We have experience handling many different types of agriculture claims in various regions and climates.

Expert claim services and support

Our adjusters can help clients with a wide range of farm and ranch exposures including:

- Crop damage from hail, rain, drought, flood, overspray or insects
- Crop yield or crop revenue in scope
- Product storage (grain elevators and silos, hay stacks, feed mills or lots)
- Livestock claims involving pork, poultry, egg, dairy or beef production, as well as equine and other stock losses
- Farm buildings (barns, silos, sheds, etc.)
- Farm equipment such as tractors and combines, cotton gins and compresses, etc.
- Irrigation systems
- First party, environmental or the more complex liability and umbrella coverages attached to many farm and ranch programs

Dedicated colleagues
