

Time and material software solutions

Accessing data in separate systems can reduce efficiency and potentially cause billing errors and service issues. For contractors, having a connected system that supports accurate estimates and bills ensures timely payments, keeps projects on track – and builds better relationships. Sedgwick's time and material software suite makes all that possible.

T&M Pro Suite is a premier billing and data management system developed for the property loss industry. It combines several applications into one software suite to help contractors fully align commercial projects with billing and estimates. The system includes various options to help contractors complete bills for complex projects, develop detailed estimates and upload data while on the job.

Streamline projects with one complete system

Sedgwick's T&M Pro Suite software includes three primary programs that work together and offer advantages for contractors and carriers.

T&M Pro

This user-friendly application helps contractors complete the billing process for complex restoration projects with ease. Billing options include time and material, rate and material, cost plus, or a combination of these three. T&M Pro ensures accuracy and consistency, and includes detailed billing that is 100% transparent so all costs are clear. With T&M Pro, contractors are also able to:

- Use the project auditor to quickly audit bills and prepare for forensics audits
- Print field sheets that are fully aligned with the price list

- Add an optional prevailing wage module
- Compare estimates to actual totals for each billable category and see continuous updates as more project data is added

T&M Estimator

Our innovative estimating program allows contractors to create extremely detailed project estimates and projections. Key advantages of T&M Estimator:

- It is fully compatible with T&M Pro
- Users can effortlessly develop an estimate or rough order of magnitude
- The application meets all industry standards

T&M Go

This tool transforms the field experience by allowing contractors to digitally capture time and material billable data while on the job. With T&M Go, daily reports can be created from digital devices and imported directly into T&M Pro.

It helps contractors save time and money with options to:

- Create completed field sheets with one click
- Automatically generate reports and summaries
- Upload data directly into T&M Pro to create a bill

Benefits

Sedgwick's time and material software solutions provide valuable benefits to ensure accuracy, consistency and transparency. Key features include:

- Local software – Once T&M Pro is installed, it can be used in any location – web access is not needed
- On-site data validation – Print and sign the field data sheets needed to support your final bill
- Centralized project information – Manage multiple parts of the job all in one system
- 24/7 technical assistance – Access support when you need it

Industry expertise

We understand contractors' needs when it comes to project billing and estimating because our software suite was built by Greg Dillon, a contractor who is also the industry's time and material expert. Our experienced team understands the field and ensures our intuitive applications work together seamlessly to provide a comprehensive system for contractors.
