Ideal for elite, high net worth clients seeking accommodations during a home repair or after a storm, our temporary housing select services are designed to alleviate the stress that often comes with restoration while bringing the very best in quality and service.

Sedgwick's temporary housing team has crafted a solution to give private clients both luxury surroundings and peace of mind as they await the restoration of their homes. Through concierge support, exclusive access to high-end properties and amenities, and an overall elevated experience, our temporary housing select options meet policyholder needs and exceed expectations.

Our select services offer:

- Luxury hotel and short-term home options
- Executive-level furniture, housewares and appliances
- Professional guided tours
- A single point of contact for both the adjuster and the insured
- End-to-end support through the life of the claim
- 24/7 live, U.S.-based concierge

An elevated experience

With white-glove service that goes above and beyond the already-high standards of our everyday temporary housing coordination, the select process is seamless for each homeowner. Within 15 minutes of receiving a claim, a team supervisor is assigned as the single point of contact. Following an introduction, they will assess immediate needs, find and secure the policyholder's chosen accommodations, and remain on standby to address concerns and proactively communicate throughout the entire claims process.

Exclusive accommodations

Our select temporary housing services provide a variety of options, including exclusive access to multimillion-dollar vacation homes and premier hotels. In finding the right fit, our professional team can bring potential properties to life through guided virtual or in-person tours. If the policyholder prefers a more customized package, we can tailor something to their standards through a collection of unfurnished luxury properties and executive-level furniture, housewares and appliance package options.
