

EXPERT SPOTLIGHT

Matthew Rodda, Senior Vice President of Operations

MEMORABLE EXPERIENCES

One of the more profound experiences in my career was when our team investigated a pollution claim in East Los Angeles.

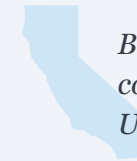

A BATTERY RECYCLING FACILITY HAD ALLEGEDLY BEEN POLLUTING THE SURROUNDING NEIGHBORHOODS WITH AERIALY DEPOSITED LEAD FOR DECADES.

Because we were working for state regulators and this was deemed an environmental justice project, we were required to hire local community members to assist with soil sampling activities. While the outcome of the investigation is still pending, this experience allowed us to work alongside many incredible community members we wouldn't have had the chance to meet otherwise.

CARING COUNTS

As a leader, I embrace our core values and follow the behaviors in our CARING model when interacting with colleagues. When colleagues feel genuinely cared for, they are more likely to extend that same level of care and go the extra mile for our clients.

“It's remarkable to see the impact we can make within our organization and on people's lives when we use our caring counts philosophy as a guide.

Based in Southern California, covering western and southern U.S. territory

....

25
25 YEARS OF
INDUSTRY EXPERIENCE

....

Environmental consulting,
property due diligence, pollution
assessment and remediation